TURKS MUST FACE ATTACK ON LAND

Force of 20,000 Seizes Position North of Dardanelles

SHIPS AID MOVEMENT

War Vessels Engaged Batteries After Failing to Send Torpedo Boats Into The Straits

Berlin, April 22—The Tages Zeitung publishes a special dispatch the origin of which, however, is not given, saying that 20,000 British and French troops have been landed near Enos, in European Turkey, on the north side of the Gulf of Saros. A heavy cannonading took place between the Turkish batteries around Enos and the warships of the allies.

An official statement of the War office said that it was definitely known that six torpedo boats attempted to penetrate the Dardanelles Monday night. There had been no previous announcement of a concerted effort Monday night by vessels of the allied fleet to run the straits and the War Office failed to disclose what was the result of the operation.

A dispatch received in Berlin from Athens said that great activity had been noted among the British forces on the Island of Lemnes, which lies to the west of the entrance to the Dardanelles. Troop transports were said to be arriving daily at Lemnos from Alexandria, the censorship was more rigid and all indications pointed to strong action against the Dardanelles at an early date.

The force that has been landed presumably will be employed for an attack from the rear of the Turkish fortifications along the European side of the straits, at the same time that a bombardment from the sea is undertaken by the allied fleet. No heavy fighting has taken place since the attempt to force the straits a month ago in which two British and one French battleship were lost.

Official information has been received in Berlin confirming previous reports of a German victory over a force in German East Africa. The British losses were given as about 700 and those of the Germans as 56. Tarnow, Galicia, has been evacuated by the Russians, on account of the effective attacks of the Austrian artillery. Tarnow lies 175 miles west of Lemberg.

Washington, D. D. April 22—Information has reached some of the Embassies here that the allies are about to re-enforce the naval attack on the Dardanelles forts by a powerful force of troops, gathered largely from India and Southern France. The campaign has been carefully planned.

EX-CONGRESSMAN FOUND DEAD

Mystery Surrounds Death of North Carolina Congressman

Goldsboro, N. C. April 22—Mystery surrounds the death of Congressman John M. Faison, from the Third North Carolina District, who was found dead early yesterday morning at his home in Faison, with a bullet hole through his head.

His death was discovered when a member of the family went to summon him to breakfast. When he did not answer an effort was made to enter his room, but the door was found locked—something unusual. When the door was forced open the body, quite cold, was found lying across the bed.

The mystery surrounding the case is due to the fact that no weapon was found near the scene, and though five members of the family were asleep in the house Tuesday night all state they heard no shot.

Some advance the idea that the deceased committed suicide and lived long enough to conceal the weapon before he expired, with poor health as a motive for the crime.

According to a message from Vienna, a congress of delegates of the German and Austro-Hungarian Socialist parties held there favored an early peace.

England has thirty-six divisions, or 540,000 men, at the front, Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George announced in the British House of Commons yesterday afternoon. He stated that every dead and wounded soldier had been replaced.

The third fire within a period of seven months in the wholesale crockery and supply store of the E. B. Adams Company at 614-618 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, yesterday afternoon, caused a stock loss approximating $50,000 and a loss on the building of $6,000.

Dismissals of postoffice employes because of age and reductions in the salaries of postoffice clerks and letter carriers were given consideration by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor at its session in Washington yesterday. The matter was referred to President Gompers for further investigation.

The Japanese Embassy yesterday stated that the Japanese cruiser Chitose is the only one of the Japanese warships at Turtle Bay. It is understood from the Japanese officials that there are no German vessels now in the Pacific which demand the presence of a Japanese squadron in those waters.

Numerous mass meetings were held in Tokio last night, at which demands were made that Japan take drastic action against China because of the refusal of the Chinese government to comply with all the Japanese demands. Prominent newspapers are unanimous in their insistence that a formal ultimatum be sent to China.

An attempt to wreck the fast Philadelphia-Washington three-hour passenger train was made just outside the Terminal property in Washington Tuesday night. The express, composed mostly of Pullman cars and carrying about 100 passengers, crashed into a pile of railroad tools two miles from the Union Station.

Mrs. William Cumming Story, of New York, was re-elected president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution on the first ballot cast by 1,186 delegates to the twenty-fourth annual convention of the national society in Memorial Continental Hall, Washington, last night. Mrs. Story received 695 votes, a majority of 245 votes over her opponent, Mrs. George Thacher Guernsey, of Kansas, who received 491 votes.

Martha Schultz, the 15 year old daughter of a well to do farmer, was on Tuesday night attacked by two masked women near a coke plant in the outskirts of Connellsville, Pa. One of the women held Miss Schultz while the other pressed on each cheek the uncorked neck of a bottle filled with acid. Her face was badly burned, and she was then allowed to go. Several weeks ago Miss Schultz received a letter ordering her to place $1,000 and a gold watch in a secluded spot. She ignored the letter.

Cards announcing the wedding of Miss Louise Besley, 19, beautiful Chicago heiress, to Thomas Wesley Osborne, 24, of Denver, will be issued this week, but Mrs. Osborne will be immediately taken back to her home in Hinsdale, Ill., with her mother, and a probationary wait of a year will be imposed on the newly married elopers before the young couple will be allowed to live together. Osborne may, however, visit his bride. This is the mandate issued by the very wealthy Mrs. Charles Howard Besley, of Hinsdale, mother of the bride and wife of the late C. H. Besley, Chicago manufacturer.

CZAR REPULSES GERMAN ATTACK

Drive Against Left Wing Carried Saving Southern Slope

FEROCIOUS FIGHTING

Germans Report Evacuation of Tarnow, in Galicia, by Russians—Great Struggle Imminent.

Petrograd, April 22—The counter-attack of General Litzinger's Bavarian army against the Russian left wing in the Carpathian position has now been definitely stopped and the Russians have reoccupied the hill and village of Cravtchik, four miles westward of Koziomeka and overlooking Munkacz and the Stryj road. This attempted German advance northward has been the only serious threat the Russians had to meet since they crossed the main ridge.

Generally the situation in the southern campaign is now very favorable to the Russians. There are signs of discord between General Litzinger and Archduke Friedrich, who is nominal commander of the entire Austro-German combination. The Germans are ready to sacrifice Hungary, at least economically, by fighting a series of rearguard actions and drawing the Russians down toward the middle Danube. This would relieve the Silensian flank, where great German forces now are being deployed from Cracow chiefly along the Dunajetz. Hindenburg remains in nearly full strength with his extreme northern army, which attempted to reach the Niemen in February, along the borders of East Prussia, but he has sent great numbers from the winter position on the Narew, the Bzura and Rawka Rivers, southward to join the Austrians of the Pilitza and Nida making a continuous and strongly held line from Piotorkow to Crocow, and south ward.

This region is also threatened by the Russian and may be the scene of a great battle before it is possible to move farther south from the lower slopes of the Carpathians.

WILL ASK COMMUTATION.

Leo Frank Enters Protest Against This Course.

Atlanta, Ga., April 22.—Leo Frank's lawyers will ask the prison commission of Georgia for a commutation of his sentence to life imprisonment, instead of a pardon for their client, it is stated. This decision was reached after a conference of the attorneys of the condemned man, and it is said was decided upon over his protest, for Frank has always declared he wanted vindication, and did not care to live without being proven innocent.

It was stated at the office of the prison commission that if Frank's petition is filed within ten days it will not be set for hearing before the May term, and might not be heard before the June term.

Frank's lawyers reached the decision, it is stated, not because they do not consider Frank innocent, but because they felt that commutation was the best hope, after failure of the courts to intervene.

CAN REMOVE DEPUTY

Collector Moncure Has the Power to Dismiss Southward

Washington, D. C. April 22—According to reports in official circles here, C. L. Ford, of Fairfax, now in the collector's office at Richmond, on May 1st succeeds Deputy Southward in the office of Collector Moncure. Mr. Southward will be transferred to the civil service list and retained in the service.

Some effort was made by prominent Democratic politicians to retain Mr. Southward in his position, but there are reasons for stating the change recommended by Collector Moncure will be carried out.

Washington, D. C. April 22—No official information had been received at the Treasury Department up to noon yesterday from Collector R. C. L. Moncure, of the Eastern District of Virginia regarding the report of his intention to remove E. P. Southward from his position as Division Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue on May 1st.

Mr. Moncure is entirely within his rights in removing Southward or any other of his deputies, and does not have to consult officials of the department or anyone else. Protests against Southward's removal will have no weight with the department, and it is extremely doubtful that the department will communicate with Moncure in regard to them, if received here.

By the provisions of the Overman amendment to the urgent deficiency bill passed October 22, 1913, all deputy collectors and other officials under the internal revenue collectors were taken from under the protecting wing of the civil service and placed in direct charge of the collectors. They can remove their subordinates at any time and for any reason, but it is necessary for them to secure the approval of the department before they can apoint a successor. This approval is usually given without hesitation.

Senator Overman, of North Carolina, in presenting his amendment, took the ground that as deputy collector usually handled large sums of money for which the collector is responsible, it is unfair for them to have civil service protection, but that they should be wholly under control of the collectors, who must give bond to the government for money in their charge.

REPLY TO GERMANY

Significant Language Used by Administration to Von Bernstoff

In reply yesterday to the recent memorandum of the German Ambassador, Count von Bernstoff, containing reflection upon the sincerity of American neutrality in the present war, the administration made known officially its disapproval of the subject matter and language of the German communication.

While answering in considerable detail the Ambassador's contentions that the United States should prohibit the exportation of arms to the allies, the note goes further and points out the impropriety of the Ambassador's statements, which have to do with the relations between the governments of the United States and Great Britain. The note also calls attention to the fact that the language in the Ambassador's memorandum is open to the construction that it impugns the good faith of the United States.

PREACHER SUED FOR LIBEL

Manager of Atlanta Theatre Demands Damages

Atlanta, April 22—Because he characterized the shows staged at the Mill Theatre as "vulgar and indecent" in his sermon last Sunday night the Rev. J. L. White, pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle, was this afternoon made defendant in libel suit for $20,000 filed by A. K. Jones, manager of the theatre.

Manager Jones charged that the minister was actuated by malice and that he was "laboring under intoxication of the exuberance of his own verbosity" when he attacked the theatre and urged the police to close it. Jones alleges that the pulpit attack has greatly decreased the attendance at the theatre and that he has been caused serious financial loss.

ROOSEVELT LAYS BOSS RULE BARE

Tells of Combine Between Machines to Elect Party Leader

Far Expected to Fly When Former President's Cross-Examination is Conducted Today.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 22—A battle-royal between Colonel Roosevelt and William Barnes, Jr., is impending today. The climax of their titanic political struggle will be reached in the cross-examination of the former President by William M. Ivins, Barnes' counsel.

The question of whether Roosevelt had legal "malice" in making his alleged libel charges against Barnes was the crux of the fray.

Roosevelt denies having issued the statement because of malice, based upon Barnes' bitter antagonism culminating in Barnes' part in his defeat at the Chicago Republican convention.

Barnes' plan of attack was outlined today.

His attorneys have raked and scraped together all written and spoken attacks of the colonel upon Barnes.

They had every violent tirade and harsh word of the colonel against Barnes, "Barnesism" and bossism, in readiness to spring upon the defendant.

They propose to have Roosevelt admit making each and every such attack to pile up, in quantity and "quality," before the jury the years' records of Roosevelt's antagonism.

Roosevelt's speeches, his articles in the Outlook and former campaign statements are all in Barnes' possession to have Roosevelt identify and admit having made them.

Justice Andrews promised a ruling on admitting certain magazine articles attacking Barnes, which the colonel read and said confirmed his belief in Barnes' part in alleged bi-partisan alliance.

Four chapters of Albany politics were related by Roosevelt on the witness stand yesterday. The former president gave what he represented as the details of the election by "Barnes Republicans," assisted by "Murphy Democrats," of an officio' leader of the Republican party in New York; the cause of the hostilities between William Barnes and Governor Hughes; the defeat of the Hart-Agnew Racing bill by the Republican organization and the fight he said the combined Democratic and Republican machines, the latter led by Mr. Barnes, made against direct primaries legislation.

He also identified a letter written by Mr. Barnes in which the latter told him "the idea of getting rid of bosses is absurd so long as you have party government"

Colonel Roosevelt was on the stand nearly the entire day and continued the story by which he hopes to prove to the jury that he was justified in causing the publication of the statement whereby Mr. Barnes claims to have been libeled, and that constitutes the basis of the suit for $50,000 damages.

DANIELS PICTURE HISSED.

Wilson Applauded, But Secretary Gets Reverse, in Norfolk Theater.

Norfolk, Va., April 22.—The picture of Secretary of the Navy Daniels, when shown on a screen in a theater filled with people here last night, was loudly hissed. Moving pictures of "Life in the American Navy" was the attraction, and the theater was filled with men and womne.

President Wilson's picture was first shown and was loudly applauded. When Secretary Daniels' picture appeared there was a small patter of applause which was drowned by a storm of hisses.

This incident created surprise among a number of people who witnessed it.

Indian Head, Md., April 22.—The worst forest fire in the history of Charles county is raging in the neighborhood of Chicamuxen and Rison, a few miles south of Indian Head. It started last Wednesday and is still burning. It has swept over several thousand acres, embracing the farms of Albert Simmons, Lee Rison, Robert Milstead, Thomas De Lozier, Thomas P. The barn and outbuildings on the farm of Albert Simmons were burned. The flames reached the steps of the Ironsides Baptist Church, but the building was saved. Much fencing and considerable cordwood and a house occupied by negroes were destroyed.

FIRE SWEEPS BLUE RIDGE.

Hotel, Three Houses, Two Barns, Fencing And Much Timber Burned.

Winchester, Va., April 22.—Forest fires on the Blue Ridge Mountain in Clarke county destroyed yesterday the residence of Ralph Tavennear, tenanted by Thomas Sillman, the big summer hotel known as "Blue Ball Inn," on the Shenadoah river; Thomas McDonald's house barns on Mrs. Jacob Vorous' and Benner's farm and fencing and a tenant house on Wilkes W. Bowles' farm.

The fire started Tuesday from brush piles that were being burned and were soon beyond control. Residents of the entire section, men, women and children, aided by volunteers from Berryville and farmers on the west side of Shenandoah, battled with the flames all night. It was thought the fire was under control, but yesterday morning it broke out afresh in half a dozen places and driven by a brisk breeze swept south toward Ashby's Gap. So far efforts to check the flames have failed and it is feared the loss will be much larger than was reported today.

FALLING WALL KILLS TWELVE

Stores in Birmingham, Alabama Are Crushed by Debris

RECOVERING BODIES

Rubbish so Thick That Twenty-four Hours Will Be Required to Remove it and Find the Dead

Birmingham, Ala., April 22.—More than 12 persons are believed to have been killed and 20 were hurt late yesterday, when a five-story wall of the old Steele-Smith building, on Second avenue, crashed on the Hann shoe store and the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company's store.

Late last night the body of Manager L. McLeod, of the tea company's store, was the only one removed, but four others could be seen by rescuers. The debris is so thick that 24 hours may be required to recover all the bodies and determine the actual number of victims.

Among the known missing are J. H. Whitlock, traveling auditor of the tea company, and Miss Melia Eddinger, Miss Madeline Dedman and Irving Melbrant, of the Hann shoe store.

The Steel-Smith Building was burned last December, and the single wall had been standing since that time. It fell during a heavy rain and windstorm. The two store buildings—three-story structures—were crushed, and employees and shoppers were caught in the wreck.

Members of Force Obtain Permission to Give Annual Excursion.

The Alexandria police were given permission by the board of police commissioners at their meeting last night to hold their annual excursion during the coming summer provided the men do not "hold up saloon keepers or over exert themselves in and around barrooms in their efforts to dispose of tickets."

Last year there was some objection by members of the board to the holding of excursions by the policemen, but on account of the high cost of living and the low salaries received by the men, the board agreed to let them have another this year. The proceeds of the excursion go to the uniform fund.

Chief Goods reported that 98 prisoners had been before the Police Court during the past month.

RESIGNS FROM PRESBYTERY.

Rev. H. G. Richardson Says he Was Out of Harmony.

In a letter to the Presbytery in Washington, Rev. Dr. H. G. Richardson, formerly pastor of a church in Clarksburg, W. Va., who is living in Baltimore, asked that his name be dropped not only as a minister, but as a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Richardson explained last night that his reason for withdrawing from the faith was purely one of intellectual doctrine; that no pressure was brought to bear upon him, and that his action was entirely voluntary.

Dr. Richardson was silent when asked if he would join another church.

The committee appointed by the Presbytery to consider Dr. Richardson's letter decided to consider the communication privately and to present its report at a Presbytery meeting in September next.

PRESIDENT AT PRESBYTERY

Delivers Interesting Talk in Washington Church Last Night

President Wilson put the high office of the Presidency behind him for a few minutes last night and talked to the Presbytery of Potomac. He spoke in Central Presbyterian Church where he attends nearly every Sunday, and he talked to men who knew him and knew his father before him, the Rev. Joseph Wilson, a Presbyterian minister.

Mr. Wilson talked of his boyhood and some of his boyish troubles. He talked of his father as a father and as a minister. He also talked of religion and foreign missions and he made his audience feel they were hearing Mr. Wilson, the Presbyterian and not Mr. Wilson, the President.

When Mr. Wilson finished talking the moderator, Rev. R. H. Fleming of Baltimore, who was presiding grasped him by the hand and said: "Your father, whom I loved, held by divine right a higher office as a Presbyterian minister than you hold as President." Mr. Wilson's smile was one of plensure.

A number of Alexandrians mostly of the Second Presbyterian Church were among the President's auditors.

GERMAN RESENTMENT.

The Berlin Post, in an editorial article entitled "The American Troubles," casts doubt upon the geniuneness of the accident which caused the grounding of the Japanese cruiser Asama in Turtle Bay, Lower California.

The paper says: "Germany would view a war between the United States and Japan with mixed feelings. While we do not desire a victory of the yellow race over the white nevertheless America has no claim to the love or respect of the Germans. We would be satisfied to know that this country which first became a state at an expenditure of German blood and German energy, should from its present condition of unsympathetic contentment, come to know the bitter necessities of war."

The assertion that this country owes its existence to "German blood and German energy" will be justly repudiated by the great mass who read such a baseless claim. We have the best feeling toward Germans, many of whom have played prominent parts in the evolution of this great nation. But to claim that our existence is due to that race is preposterous.

While Americans have no resentment to show towards the progeny of Hessians who were employed by England to fight the colonists, the fact that Germans were so engaged is a sufficient answer to the ill-timed remarks of the Berlin Post. The great influx of Germans was after the United States had gained its independence. While we heartily welcome members of the sturdy Germanic races to our shores many of whom are among our best citizens, we are tempted to quote a paragraph from Boswell's Life of Samuel Johnson. When the great English scholar was living in garrets and feasting upon crusts, he appled to Pembroke College for a diploma and was turned down. In later years, after Johnson had won his spurs, this institution graciously tendered him the honor he had sought in his younger days. The sensitive old man declined it, and in doing so said the faculty reminded him of men who stood by and watched a man struggling in the waves to reach the shore. After he had landed they proffer their services to escort him up the hill.. As stated above we had gained our independence before the great rush of Teutons to our country set in.

The irate paper which desires the United States and Japan to cross swords is showing a bad spirit. Germany is engaged in a war for her national existence and many people of our country are disposed to look at present conditions through Teutonic spectacles, while equally as many others are convinced that Emperor William could have kept peace in Europe by muzzling Austria. We who are not behind the scenes are not sufficiently posted in diplomatic jugglery to give an opinion. But should any unfortunate issue arise between Uncle Sam and the Mikado, we are satisfied both will exhaust diplomacy before plunging recklessly into war. The arrows carried by the American eagle are still in its left claws, and the olive branch of peace in its right.

GERMAN SOCIALISTS WORKING FOR PEACE

The Socialists of Germany are making an earnest effort to seek for a basis on which the cessation of the war can be brought about. Dr. Breitscheidt, a prominent member of the German Socialist party, is now in Holland consulting with the Dutch Socialist leaders with a view to getting into communication with the British, and through them, with French Socialists in an endeavor to bring pressure to bear on the various governments.

It is declared that the German Socialists are virtually unanimous in favor of peace. It is said that although the Socialists newspapers in Germany are not permitted, under penalty of suspension, to publish criticisms of the government or express skepticism regarding the results of the war, at a meeting where only members of the party were admitted and from which the police were absent, free discussion in favor of peace took place.

The general view of the Socialists it is said, is that Alsace and Lorraine should belong to neither France nor Germany, but should be autonomous. The argument is that if France recaptures the province a rankling for vengeance would be held by a large part of the population, which, it is asserted, does not desire to be governed by the French, and that therefore the situation would be as bad as ever.

It is reported that the great East Prussian land owners are trying to treat for peace with Russia, owing to fears that their property will suffer, but the Socialists are said to have expressed the opinion that the prospects of a durable peace are more likely through an arrangement of terms by Germany with France and England and by evacuating Belgium.

With reference to the Dardanelles it is declared that the German Socialists believe that it will not be feasible to internationalize or neutralize the Straits until a United States of Europe has been formed. They assert that the futility of neutrality has already been shown.

The Socialists of Germany assert that it will be imposible to starve Germany but express the belief that the war cannot continue much longer in consequence of the disastrous effect on the economic conditions of all the countries engaged.

A leading member of a famous banking firm of Havre, particularly well acquainted with the financial situation in Europe states it is declared that Germany will be at the end of her financial resources by the middle of June next. The Germans have taken severe measures in Belgium to prevent knowledge of the movements of their troops becoming known. Preparations have been made everywhere with a view of eventual retreat. High Prussian officers in Belgium do not disguise their despair and admit that the German cause is lost.

DECLINES THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Former Representative Thomas L. Reilly of Connecticut, was made the offer of $30,000 in gold in New York yesterday, which gift he declined. The money was tendered Mr. Reilly at the Waldorf and was the result of voluntary contributions of postal employes of the country who wanted to show their appreciation of the former Representative's interest in them. Mr. Reilly said he has not expected such a gift and that he could not accept any reward for his services, which were prompted from the depths of his heart. So he turned down the gold.

There always have been and always will be people in the world who look upon all politicians with suspicion. They strangely suppose that persons who hold public positions are peccable upon general principles, and that they become public servants for what they can make out of the calling. The above is a sufficient answer to such assumptions. That there are unscrupulous men in public life is a sad fact, but that seared consciences always follow an advent int public life is a libel.

The fact that former Congressman Reilly declined such a substantial gift as an acknowledgment of a performance of his duty while a public representative is being told of him, as it should be but there are often like incidents in connection with the lives of the humblest in this world, people who never sat in Congress which are never told, and often known only to the recording angel. Many years ago a faithful employee of the Southern Railroad Company was tendered a watch by Alexandria merchants for courtesies shown them in the prompt delivery of their goods. The railroad man declined the testimonial, telling the patrons of the road that he was paid by the company to perform certain duties, and the fact that his services were satisfactory to the patrons of the road was all the reward he desired.

SECOND SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Husband Embraces Wife After Finding Her in Arms of Affinity.

New York, April 22.—When her husband led a midnight raid upon her apartments to find her in the arms of an alleged affinity, did he wallop said affinity or did he threaten to tear his heart out?

According to Mrs. Mily B. Anderson, wife of Perc yB. Anderson, a wealthy druggist, he did none of those things. Instead, she says, he gathered her up in his arms and hugged and kissed her.

Mrs. Anderson's testimony was given yesterday at a hearing in the divorce suit brought by her husband in which E. M. Vickers, a wealthy real estate man, is named as co-respondent. She claims his actions on the night of the raid are a bar to his divorce action and asks the court to hear her counter suit.

The action was the second brought by Anderson within a year. The first suit in which Mrs. Anderson was exonerated named Capt. J. H. Hanner, U. S. A.; Bert Grant a song writer, and Herman Douds, an engineer, as co-respondents.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT

Children Play With Pistol, And One Is Instantly Killed

Danville, Va., April 22.—The little daughter of Mrs. Harvey Adkins, who lives a short distance from this city, was instantly killed yesterday evening by a pistol ball through the left eye. The little girl, with her three-year-old brother, were playing alone in a room adjoining the kitchen, where Mrs. Adkins was preparing supper. On hearing the report of the revolver, the woman ran into the room and found her child dead, with the pistol on the floor. Whether the wound was self-inflicted or whether the boy held the pistol is not known, the latter at first saying that his sister had it and later saying that the pistol went off in his hand. How the children came into possession of the weapon, which was on the mantle, could not be explained.
